Dress requirements

All vendors, except for Food Truck Vendors & Non-Profit booths, are asked to dress up in accordance to the year's theme. We are trying to create an immersive and unique event for the guests. The concept for this market is that guests will be stepping through a gate into another realm where they will get to experience and shop in a different time and place. Much like a Renaissance Fair!

2027 Theme: The Faerie Courts - Four Seasons

Dress as any fae or elven creature you desire! Feel free to choose any of the four seasons to represent if you want. You do not have to invest heavily into costuming for this event. If it's something you could throw together for a day at the Renaissance festival then it will work! However, please dress family friendly as this is a family event.

If you need assistance acquiring costuming, please make a note in your application or contact us directly upon acceptance as we have an opportunity to assist those vendors who cannot afford costuming.

We will have actors playing the fae royalty based on each season. We ask that vendors do not wear crowns or tiaras for this event.

Scavenger Hunt

Each event has a scavenger hunt where guest can collect stamps for the year's quests. Each scavenger hunt is different and is designed to get guests to visit all corners of the event. Previously, for example, the scavenger hunt has been incorporated into the vendor spaces by requiring guests to visit a specific booth or stand-alone elements of the scavenger hunt were placed near a vendor's booth.

If interested in potentially hosting an element of the scavenger hunt or acting as a NPC guide for scavenger hunt elements near your booth, please indicate your interest in the application.

If you have made it this far, Thank You! The last question on the application will be a comment box where you can tell us your favorite fantasy book, show, movie, or character!

Oddity & Bone Vendors

Any business selling Oddities must follow ethical and respectful practices in the obtaining and selling of certain items and must comply with federal and Ohio state laws. Proper documentation of certain items may be requested and any vendor found breaking federal or state laws will be asked to leave the event and will be banned from all future events. It is the responsibility of the shop owner to be up to date with federal and state regulations. All animal parts must be sourced ethically.

Items prohibited at Outer Realms Market in addition to federal and state banned items:

- Native American Artifacts
- Bats & bat parts (including bones)
